Senior Club to Give Formal Friday Night

Charlie Trout's Orchestra To Play At Last Formal
Hop of Club

Only two more days till cadet hearts will be immeasurably lightened and brightened by the feminine forms which will enhance the beauty of the campus, for on the evening of this day, February 11, the Senior Dancing Club will give their Mid-Winter Prom.

This Hop will be the "au revoir" dance of this club as this is the last formal dance to be given by the present Senior Club as a group. The officers of the club intend that this dance shall be one befitting the final dance and they will spare neither artistic taste nor energy in seeing that this Hop shall be the social climax of the season.

The music for this dance will be furnished by one of the premier orchestras of the South, Charlie Trout's eleven piece orchestra, of Atlanta. The Senior Dancing Club is very fortunate in obtaining this orchestra, for as an agitating, syncoptating, foot inspiring coterie of eleven musicians, this orchestra reigns supreme in this realm of music.

The list of names of the fair young ladies registered is one of the largest and most complete from the standpoint of beauty, quantity, and popular dancers that has ever been compiled at Clemson before. Names of the most popular debutantes of the season from all points far and near appear thereon.

The decorations for this dance will not be very elaborate as the basketball squad must use the gymnasium floor for practice. "Johnie" Baker, vice-president and chairman of the decoration committee, states that although the time is very limited the decorations will be conspicuous for their novelty and originality.

The following are the capable officers of the club: "Buster" Parler, president, J. H. Baker, vice-president, and Joe Fishburne, secretary-treasurer.

Pay up in Room 133 for the very best of good times.

CLEMSON WELL REPRESENTED AT SOUTHERN AGRI. MEETING

The twenty-ninth Annual Convention of the Southern Agricultural Workers Association was held in Atlanta last week. This meeting began February 2 and continued thru February 4. Numerous phases of new and profitable divisions in Agriculture were discussed which interested the vast assembly for many hours.

In the election of officers for the coming term, Prof. H. W. Barre of the South Carolina Experiment Station located here was elected vice-president. The Tiger and all Clemson men wish to extend their congratulations to Prof. Barre. In making their choice for such an important position, the association could not have found a better man.

Representatives from practically every agricultural college in the South were present. Heading the delegation from Clemson was Dr. Sikes. The following Clemson men were present:

Prof. H. W. Barre, Director S. C. Experiment Station; W. C. Jensen, Professor Agricultural Economics; R. W. Hamilton, Prof. Agronomy; H. H. Willis, Bureau of Agricultural Economics, U. S. Dept. Agriculture; headquarters at Clemson College; L. V. Starkey, Prof. Animal Husbandry; J. P. LaMaster, Prof. Dairying; C. O. Eddy, Associate Entomologist; A. M. Musser, Prof. Horticulture; A. E. Schilleter, Associate Horticulturist; J. T. McAlister, Associate Prof. Agricultural Engineering; L. C. McAlister, Associate Entomologist.

G. T. Swearingen, of Edgefield, student at Clemson College in 1897-98, was the winner of the first prize in the five-acre cotton contest in S. C. during 1926, over a large number of contestants.

NOTICE

The Tiger Joke section is beginning a popularity contest this week. All cadets are eligible for nomination, and anyone is allowed to vote. Get busy and have your man elected to the position you think he best deserves. Fill out the ballot in the Joke column and return to Shine Milling or Speck Farrar. The balloting will close at ten-thirty Sunday night, February 13th.

DE MILLE SELECTS BEAUTIFUL GIRLS FOR BEAUTY SECTION

Miss Inez Dunlop Takes First Place; Is Difficult Task

The Beauty Section of the 1927 Taps, chosen by Cecil B. DeMille, famous movie director and connoisseur of beautiful women, was announced yesterday by the Taps staff.

The following beautiful young ladies were selected for the perfect bevy of wonderful entries: Miss Inez Dunlop, Miss Frances Collings, Miss Marion Sparks, Miss Gertrude Neely, Miss Reba Ginn, Miss Frances Player, Miss Elizabeth West and Miss Frances Reese.

The Taps was indeed lucky in securing such a distinguished judge. The young ladies chosen should feel blissfully complimented that their beauty should be appreciated to such an extent by Mr. DeMille. It might lure them toward stardom.

The following letter was received from Mr. DeMille:

Mr. W. C. Brown,
Editor Taps, Clemson College, S. C.
Dear Mr. Brown:

Selecting the eight most beautiful girls from the many attractive young ladies' photographs you submitted was a task of considerable difficulty. Beauty is an elusive quality to register on a photographic plate, particularly so because personality, that so very important ingredient of attractiveness does not photograph.

Miss Inez Dunlop is given first place because of the exceptional beauty of her wide-spaced eyes, straight nose, and the becoming manner in which her hair is arranged. Miss Frances Collings, who has beautiful eyes and a perfect oval face, is my second choice. Miss Marion Sparks, I selected for third because of the attractive piquancy of the contestant. Miss Gertrude Neely for her remarkable eyes and almost perfect mouth. The arresting beauty of Miss Reba Ginn's combination of dark eyes and blond hair led to her selection for fifth place. Miss Frances Player, Miss Elizabeth West, and Miss Frances Reese each were chosen for some quality, or combination of qualities, as stamp a woman as beautiful.

With all good wishes for the success of the 1927 Taps, I remain,

Yours Truly,

Cecil B. DeMille

HUMOR EDITORS TO CONDUCT CONTEST

Seek Data For a "Who's Who
In The Lair—Expect
Revelations

By way of taking a census, the joke department is initiating a movement this week to determine the various shining lights in the student body. On the joke page there is a ballot to be filled out. This department requests each cadet to fill out the ballot and send it in in order that a Who's Who Among Clemson Cadets may be written to hand down to posterity the names and qualities as well as the accomplishments of these illustrious notables who have once graced, or disgraced, the fair campus of the Garrison-on-the-Seneca.

Whether the contest is to be conducted in seriousness or in jest, the humor editors have not stated, but since it is a concoction of the unsound and irresponsible minds of those three provokers of mirth, it cannot be regarded seriously.

That there will be any trouble in filling out the ballot is not the question. The main question is why did they limit each of these coveted positions to only one title holder. But that is another of the many things for which the jocular ones are responsible.

Fill out the ballot and send it in right away before it is too late, and look for a full account of the election next week.

DR. SEELEY GIVES LECTURES ON HYGIENE AND SOCIAL PROBLEMS

Dr. S. N. Seeley, Dean of Springfield College, Springfield, Massachusetts recently delivered a series of lectures to the student body concerning personal hygiene. Dr. Seeley is a noted lecturer and psychologist. He is dean of the Y. M. C. A. College at Springfield.

The talks were very interestingly presented, being given in a far different manner than most lectures of this kind are. The round-table talks were very enlightening and helpful. From here Dr. Seeley went to Furman. From there he will go to other colleges in the south.

Lemon—"Why is Franklin so stuck-up?"

Tree—"His son was on the college football team and graduated."

THREE ONE-ACT PLAYS PRESENTED BY DRAMATICS CLUB MEET WITH SUCCESS

The three one-act plays, presented by the Clemson College Dramatic Club, last Friday night, proved a most delightful treat to those who were fortunate enough to attend. The parts were well acted, and the actors were well coached. The settings added materially to the success of the plays.

The play, "Nettie," was a rich little comedy, interesting to men in particular and most especially those who have been unfortunate enough to meet a "Nettie." The three characters were well presented by W. D. Nickles, W. B. Calhoun and H. W. Hoefer. Nickles was particularly good.

DR. MCCOLLUM TAKES OVER EXCHANGE; TO OPERATE BOOK DEPT.

Cadet Exchange Changes
Hands; Be Moved to Martin's Drug Store

According to an announcement made here recently, the Cadet Exchange has changed hands and will be operated by Dr. McCollum of the L. C. Martin Drug Co. The exchange, which was formerly operated by Professor Shanklin on the first floor of Barracks One, will continue in its old quarters for the rest of the year, but next fall it will be moved to the drug store, there to be under the personal supervision of Dr. McCollum.

For some years Dr. McCollum has handled graded and high school books and equipment, and he now intends to enlarge his stock so as to supply the college students with books as well.

The exchange as it is run in barracks at present is both convenient and inconvenient. It is easily accessible to the students, but is very inconvenient in that it is open for only a few minutes just after meals, and at those times the facilities for serving customers are so poor that cadets have to stand in line a long time before they can make their purchases.

While access will not be quite so easy under the new arrangement, purchases may be made at any time during the day. Doc McCollum intends to render the same courteous and efficient service for which he holds the reputation, and it will indeed be a pleasure to students to give him their support in operating the book store.

NEW SYSTEM OF HUMIDIFIERS INSTALLED IN TEXTILE DEPT.

The Textile Building is being equipped with a new and complete system of humidifying. The new system is the one put out by the American Moistening Co., and is being installed by them at about one half the regular cost.

With the new system comes a filter tank to insure that the water used is free from foreign matter that might cause clogging or improper functioning of the humidifiers. The whole system is automatically controlled, and is designed to aid in lowering the temperature of the building during the summer months.

OFFICIAL ANNOUNCEMENT OF SPRING HOLIDAYS SETS VACATION MARCH 31-APR. 5

As officially announced in a general order and unofficially discussed for many days previous to the issuance of the order, Spring Holidays for the Clemson Corps of Cadets will begin at eleven o'clock, or after the last scheduled class of the individual prior to that time on the last day of March 1927. The holidays will continue until the night of April 5, when those same cadets, or rather most of them, will return to college on time to pursue what classes remain between that time and the seventh of June.

These holidays are the accumulation of half holidays and single holidays which are passed up when they come due in order that they, coming all at one time, might amount to a considerable period of vacation to break the monotony of collegiate life between baseball and basketball season.

These holidays are long-looked-for and much welcomed when they come, but each year there is the same old fault with them. They have the most deplorable habit of coming just a few days late,—too late to co-ordinate with the Winthrop spring holidays. This week they come just about a week too late. They do not begin until three days after the Winthrop girls go back after their brief vacation.

The furlough begins on Thursday and lasts until the night of the following Tuesday. Classes will follow the next morning, and everyone will be expected to have lessons prepared and also be ready for innumerable quizzes.

However, no one will worry about such trifles until they become realities.

The work on Taps is progressing wonderfully due to the efficiency and cooperation of the staff. This year's book should be the pride of Clemson because it will excell all previous volumes.

Each student and faculty member should, if he has not already done so, place his order for a volume with J. H. Baker business manager, before the fifteenth of February. That date will be the last day that orders will be taken. NO EXTRA COPIES WILL BE ORDERED. Hence each cadet should bear this in mind and not find himself or his sponsor in the lurch.

The new annual will hold many surprises. Cooperate with the staff and you will glory in the fruits of their labors.

In this issue there appears announcement of a contest. It is a contest that promises to dig up various personalities and flaunt them before the public gaze. It is being sponsored by the editors of the humor section, hence it must be a humorous contest. We urge every reader of The Tiger to fill out the ballot and mail, send, carry, or tie to a brick and throw it at one of the joke editors. You want to be sure it gets to them, so any of the abovementioned methods are recommended, especially the last. Fill it out now and read all about it next week.

DR. WESSON LECTURES ON COTTON SEED AND ITS MANY PRODUCTS

Dr. Edward S. Wesson, of Montclair, N. J., noted chemist and the original producer of Wesson's Cooking Oil, lectured to the Clemson corps last Monday on the value of the products that are produced from cottonseeds.

Dr. Wesson explained the texture of cottonseeds, and how the oil, meal, and hulls are produced from them. He compared these products with other leading products of this country, and told of the possibilities of developing even more important products from cottonseed oil and meal than the ones being produced from them today.

The lecture was illustrated by pictures, and it was very interesting and instructive from beginning to end.

FIRE ALARM BREAKS INTO CADETS' NOON MESS PERFORMANCE

The Cadet Corps was somewhat excited last Friday when the fire whistle blew during dinner. Colonel "Jonnie" Baker immediately called the Corps to attention and the company commanders marched their respective companies to the small parade ground where they were held for future orders.

HORTICULTURAL JUDGING TEAM WINNER OF LOVING CUP FOR JUDGING PRODUCTS

Gerard, Miley, and Cromer Enter Contest; Miley is High Pointer

The Clemson horticultural judging team composed of three students, F. H. Gerard, P. Miley, and N. C. Cromer, won a beautiful loving cup at the Southern Intercollegiate fruit and judging contest in Atlanta last week. The three horticultural crops used in the contest were sweet potatoes, apples, and pecans.

The cup given by the "Progressive Farmer" was for the highest team score made in the judging and identification of the sweet potato. In addition to the cup won by the team a handsome medal was presented to Mr. Miley for being the individual high scorer.

Out of a possible score of 1200, the Clemson team scored 1072 points in judging the sweet potato. Out of a possible score of 400 for an individual contestant, Clemson's high point man, Miley scored 380. The coaches of each team were the judges, and in setting up classes they had to agree unanimously as to the placing of the groups.

According to the rules of this newly organized branch of intercollegiate rivalry, a cup must be won twice by a school before it becomes the permanent property of any institution. One glance at this cup should be sufficient stimulus to the next team to enter the contest in intent, not only in giving this cup a permanent niche here but also to include others.

This contest was the first of its kind to be held in the South. In the North and West they are held regularly, and the keenest rivalry exists between the participants.

This contest was held under the auspices of the horticultural division of the Southern Agricultural Workers Association during its twenty-ninth annual meeting held in Atlanta last week. It was arranged for the purpose of creating more interest and enthusiasm in Southern horticulture, and it is sincerely hoped that Clemson will not rest her bids for fame and honor solely on her athletic teams.

CLEMSON Y. M. C. A. TEAM DEFEATS NEW HOLLANDERS 31-18

Rhet Turnipseed's Quintet Invades Lair to be Repulsed
By Y. M. C. A.

The Clemson Y. M. C. A. basketball team defeated New Holland here last Wednesday 31 to 18. Rhet Turnipseed, former Clemson football and baseball star, was again seen in action. He is now Athletic Director of the New Holland Y. M. C. A. At first his team seemed to be at loss on our court because of its size. They soon became accustomed to their surroundings however, and played a good game. Turnipseed and Webb played best for New Holland.

Clemson used two complete teams. Each team played about half of the game. They seemed to have their eye for the basket as was evidenced by many pretty shots. Dowling, Smith and Mundy started at forward for Clemson. Holtzendorff and Howard at guard also played well.

After finding out the fire was only a trash pile burning, the cadets who had not finished their respective company S-(whn h ETE meal went back to the mess hall. Every one was keyed to a high pitch and looking for excitement.

Another embryonic conflagration was checked a little later that afternoon when several cadets rushed from a classroom to put out the burning grass near Dr. Calhoun's home. The flames were reaching dangerously near the house, but were easily extinguished. No alarm was turned in.

SAMS, NEW FACULTY MEMBER; SHUBERT RESIGNS POSITION

At the beginning of the new semester Mr. J. H. Sams accepted a position as instructor in the engineering department here. Mr. Sams is to fill the position formerly held by professor Freeman. Professor Freeman now filling the vacancy caused by the resignation of Professor Shubert.

Mr. Sams is a Clemson graduate of the class of '24. From Clemson Mr. Sams went to Cornell and there received his degree after a year and a half of work. He then entered the shops of the General Electric Co., where he took the General Electric Testing Course.

Let old Squire Pipe be the judge...

His HONOR, old Squire Pipe is unquestionably the world's ablest judge of pipe tobaccos. Who else is by nature, training and experience so well-qualified to try a tobacco and hand down a decision on it? . . . So, in the case of Granger Rough Cut, the plea is that Judge Pipe's verdict be accepted as FINAL!

To make a long brief brief: Character witnesses everywhere have sworn to Granger's sterling quality. Experts have vouched for the superiority of its rough cut. Chemists have testified that the new "glassine-sealed" foil-pouch keeps the tobacco in perfect condition.

Finally, it has been shown that by using this foil-pouch (instead of a costly tin) it is possible to sell Granger at just ten cents. On these arguments Granger rests its case! A couple of pipefuls will convince Squire Pipe that it is the world's greatest pipe tobacco . . . and any good judge of tobaccos will confirm the decision!

GRANGER ROUGH CUT

The half-pound vacuum tin is forty-five cents, the foil-pouch package, sealed in glassine, is ten cents.

Father (severely): "Now do you understand what I have just said young lady?"

Daughter (unimpressed): "Will you please broadcast it again daddy? I haven't quite got your wave length."

Dr. Calhoun remembers when the "Big Dipper" was only a small sized drinking cup.

"How old are you?" inquired the visitor of his host's little son.

"That is a difficult question," answered the young man, removing his spectacles and wiping them reflectively. "The latest personal survey available shows my psychological age to be 12, my moral age 4, my anatomical age 7, and my physiological age 6. I suppose, however, that you refer to my chronological age, which is 8. That is so old fashioned that I seldom think of it any more."

Policeman—Why don't you go home? What are you waiting for?
Dejected One—I'm waiting for it to thaw—I've lost my key in the snow.

Customer—I want to return this book I bought, "Stories for All Occasions."

Bookseller—What's the matter with it?

Customer—It's a fake! There's nothing there for a man to tell his wife when he gets home at 2 a. m.

Friend—Poppie gets a lot of sentiment out of his pipe, doesn't he?

Mrs. Alden—Indeed he does. Its perfectly disgusting to see him clean it.

A teacher in a grammar school wished to impress on her pupils the value of originality, so she said: "Johnny, repeat these sentences after me in your own words:

"I see the cow. The cow is pretty. The cow can run."

Johnny replied: "Lamp de cow. De cow is dere. Ain't she a beaut. An' say, baby, she sure kin step!"

Little Willie: "I don't want to go to that damn school any more!"

Father: "Why, Willie, where did you ever learn such a word as that?"

Little Willie: "Why, William Shakespeare uses words like that."

Father: "Well, then, quit runnin' around with him."

Madge—Dick is to ask father's consent this afternoon. I feel nervous about it.

Mollie—Are you afraid your father will not give his consent?

Madge—No; I'm afraid Dick won't turn up.

Women wear short skirts to make the men long.

The attendant in a dentist's office said to the man with the swollen jaw who had just entered, "Do you want to have a tooth extracted?"

"Want to?" he snorted. "What do you think I am, a lunatic? I've got to."

Father—Young man, I understand you have made advances to my daughter.

Young Man—Yes. I wasn't going to say anything about it, but since you have mentioned it, I wish you could get her to pay me back.

Scotty—Hooray—the wind has changed!

Wife—Well, what of it?

Scotty—Ye ken the doctor said ye wanted a change of air.

Mr. Newlywed—Please doctor, tell me at once—is it a "him" or a "her"?

Doctor—It's a "them."

Old Skinflint—Here, boy, what's this you were shouting? "Great swindle—60 victims!" I can see nothing about it in this paper.

Newsboy—"Great swindle—61 victims!"

Two Scotchmen had planned a hike into the country and had agreed to meet at a certain place at 5 o'clock in the morning. Only one of them owned an alarm clock, but he finally hit on a solution of rousing the other.

"Mac," he said, "when the clock goes off I'll get up and ring ye on a public telephone. But, for Lord's sake, be sure and don't answer it, so I can get my nickle back."

B. V. D. Tourist (in park looking at peculiar shaped bowlder): And just where did you say this rock came from?

Guide: A glacier brought it down B. V. D. Tourist (looking around) And where did the glacier go?

Guide: Oh, it went back after another rock!

Man hearing someone in the chicken house: Who is that?

Negro in chicken house: Honest boss they ain't nobody in here 'ceptin' us chickens.

Tat: "Who are you writing to?"

Pete: "Just writing to find out if my girl got home from the last dance I took her to."

"It's not so hot," said Bill as he got up for reveille.

Dr. Sam Liles says, "that the girl who falls in love with him is almost as hopeless as the cow who falls in love with a Bull Durham tobacco advertisement."

She (poutingly)—"Don't you ever speak of love?"

He (tactfully)—"Er-yes. Lovely weather, isn't it?"

"So I told the Freshman to indorse the check his family sent him."

"Did he do it?"

"Yes. He wrote on the back, 'I heartily indorse this check.'"

Young lady "Little boy, what would your father do to you if he knew you were out on the street this late at night?"

Little Boy—"I don't know. What does your father do to you?"

"Why use such a high crib for your baby?"

"So we can hear him when he falls out."

KAMPUS KOLYUM

Col. Otis R. Cole entertained a number of friends at a most enjoyable dinner Thursday evening.

A most enjoyable party was given by Mrs. F. H. Clinkscales last Thursday afternoon in honor of Mrs. J. I. Browther of Anderson. During the delightful affair, chicken salad, olives, sandwiches, and coffee were served.

The Wednesday Morning Bridge Club was entertained my Mrs. Robert K. Eaton. At the close of the games the hostess served a delicious luncheon.

Prof. S. B. Earle, director of the engineering department, gave a very enjoyable stag dinner party last week to friends on the campus.

A luncheon was given by the Presbyterian auxiliary in the Manse last Friday.

Prof. M. E. Bradley entertained the members of the Presbyterian Men's Club Friday evening. After an evening of enjoyable conversation, cigars and refreshments were served.

Mrs. D. B. Roderick was hostess to the Thursday Morning Bridge Club. At the close of the games a course of refreshments was served.

Mrs. D. H. Henry was hostess to members of the Book Club Wednesday afternoon. After an hour of book exchanging, a delectable course was served.

The Choral Club met Tuesday evening with Prof. Morrow, vice-president, presiding. Prof. Freeman is the director in charge of the club.

He "I want to buy a present for my wife."

Clerk—"Can I interest you in something in silk stockings?"

He—"Well, let's see about the present first."

I wouldn't take her to a dog fight. The judge might give her a decision.

Push—"Say, what makes you so darned talkative?"

Pull—"Well, my father was an Irishman, and my mother was a woman."

Y. M. C. A. NOTES

Vesper Service Conducted by Girls of Anderson College

A group of Anderson College girls conducted Vesper Services at the Y. M. C. A. Sunday night.

The members of the group were: Misses Gertrude Sowell, Helen Eskew, Ruth Hill, Amie Fowler, Katherine Fowler, Ethel "Connie" Pratt, June Roscoe, Hazel Meeks, Dresa Stephens, Wilcox, and Welcher.

Miss Sowell had charge of the devotional and was aided by Misses Eskew and Hill. Miss Sowell is president of the Y. W. C. A. at Anderson. The entire program was enjoyed by all who had the privilege of hearing it. The duet and the quartet were exceptionally good.

The seating capacity of the Y was not sufficient to take care of all who wanted to attend. That is a new record for Clemson. There have not been many times in the history of the Y at Clemson that there was not room for several more at the Sunday night service.

CLUBS AND SOCIETIES

The Calhoun Meets.

The Calhoun Literary Society held its first meeting of the third term Monday night, January 31. This was strictly a business meeting and no regular program was carried out. The officers for the ensuing term were elected.

Mr. Reynolds, who was president for the past term, was succeeded by Mr. R. H. Mitchell. Mr. Reynolds during his term of office proved his generalship as a leader. He has been a very active member since becoming a member of the society.

The retiring president made his farewell address, which was enjoyed by all. The members of the Calhoun Literary Society wish Mr. Reynolds as much success in future life as he achieved as President of the society.

Mr. Mitchell, the worthy successor of Mr. Reynolds, made a short but interesting inaugural address. He promises to fill his office to the highest degree. Mr. Mitchell has the hearty co-operation of the so-

CORLISS A. BERCAW

WHEN Corliss A. Bercaw went down to the tracks to get facts for his thesis in 1918, he was only following a lifelong habit.

From the time he was old enough to delight in the shrill whistle of a locomotive, through his student days at California Institute of Technology, the most fascinating thing in the world to him was a railroad train.

It isn't just happy chance that, at 29, he is a Sales Engineer in the Transportation Division of the Westinghouse Company, at Philadelphia. And it was quite natural that Bercaw should have an important share in the negotiations involving one of the most revolutionary transportation developments of the century—the development of the gas-electric rail car.

This design provides locomotion within the passenger car

"What's the future with a large organization?" That is what college men want to know first of all. That question is best answered by the accomplishments of others with similar training and like opportunities. This is one of a series of advertisements portraying the progress at Westinghouse of college graduates, off the campus some five—eight—ten years.

itself. So on many branch lines locomotives can be discarded with great saving to railroad companies and with increased convenience to passengers.

But to perfect this new car required thorough cooperation between the Westinghouse and Brill Companies, whose engineers supplied, respectively, the electric generator and gas engine which, combined, give this car its practical advantages. Bercaw acted as a liaison man during this development stage, and now he is engaged in selling, among other things, these cars, representing the newest idea in railroad transportation.

When Bercaw entered the Graduate Students' Course at East Pittsburgh in May, 1919, he was fresh from college—and naval aviation. His enthusiasm for railroading was not allowed to cool—he wasn't shunted into unfamiliar lines. For thirteen months he was a student in the Railway Shops. Then for six months in the General Engineering Department he learned how to apply Westinghouse Equipment to railroad needs. It was a logical step next to the Heavy Traction Division of the Sales Department at East Pittsburgh. And two and a-half years there landed him in his important work in Philadelphia.

To men who find a railroad train fascinating, Westinghouse opens a field that has unlimited opportunities for success.

EMOTIONAL CLASSIC OF NEW ENGLAND IS PRESENTED HERE

"The Old Homestead" Is Played Before Large Audience

"The Old Homestead," with all its fascinating "trimmings," including the old farm male quartet, appeared here on the evening of Feb. 5, at 8 o'clock. It is a play human to the very core, with pathos, sentiment and laughs galore; a play that will never die—the comedy drama of all time.

Denman Thompson's classic of New England life was first produced in 1886. It has held the boards uninterruptedly since that time, never losing its grip upon the emotions of the millions of people who have seen it time and time again. "The Old Homestead" is a comedy drama. It has to do with "Josh" Whitecomb and the folks down "Swanee" way. It is a play that will endure forever because of its "Heart Throb of a Nation." It is a story of New England life that is deep rooted in its truthful adherence to human nature.

The audience was made to laugh much and cry a little, but it was shaken and stirred, and at the final curtain went home rejoicing that such a play as "The Old Homestead" exists, with its cheerful, optimistic note, and a message that sends a shaft of sunlight right into the hearts of every member of the audience.

For those who have seen it before, it still holds its perennial personal charm and allure. It is distinctively a truly American institution. Millions have seen the play and millions will continue to enjoy it in the decades to come. It has outreached all others and its drawing power is as great today as it was 25 years ago. It is old, yet ever new and is absolutely true to the New England country life which it represents.

Bill: "What happened to you? Were you in an accident?"

Tom: "No, I was being shaved by a lady barber when a mouse ran across the floor."

SENIOR CIVILS GO ON TOUR TO SENECA

The first inspection and investigation tour to be taken by the senior civils this semester was made to Seneca last Thursday. The sections went to the nearby town in a truck Thursday morning and spent the day in surveying for a sewerage system, inspecting the water supply, and studying the sewage disposal.

The sections were divided into four parties under the general supervision of Professor E. L. Clarke, each party taking a portion of the town to survey. The purpose of the trip was to secure data for studying and designing a sewerage system as a part of the curriculum.

A lunch was furnished by Captain Harcombe. The entire day was used in investigation, the embryonic civil engineers returning to college about five o'clock in the afternoon. Other trips will possibly be taken for similar purposes in the future.

Massey: "Did your watch stop when it hit the floor?"

Hendrix: "Sure did you think it would go through."

You are an experienced smoker and you know your brand!

YOU'RE an experienced smoker. You know good tobaccos. You know taste and fragrance.

And you insist on the best — that's Camels. Only the primest tobaccos grown are good enough for you—the experienced smoker. Whatever you do you are going to do right, if you know it.

If Camels weren't the best, they would not be far and away the first. If Camels weren't quality supreme, they would not be the overwhelming preference of smokers who have tried every brand.

Your taste tells you the tobacco difference in cigarettes and you're going to smoke the best. Your advice to others is — "Have a Camel!"

SPORTS VETS. LIMBER UP FOR SPRING SPORTS

That bunch of basketballers down at Auburn were the best that the Tigers have matched with this year. Clemson played good ball in both of the contests at certain periods but would slacken every now and then to let the Tigers of the plains run up a score that was commanding throughout the game.

The Tigers meet P. C. here tonight and they are growling loudly for a victory. With the experience gained on the Auburn trip and a thousand cadets rooting for them the Bengals should come through with a favorable score.

The balmy days last week were inspiring to the track and baseball teams. No better weather could be asked for. A great deal of progress was made in both of the sports last week. The track is literally surrounded with lightly clad lads each afternoon. The baseball diamond is in shape and it is drawing its quota of candidates every day.

Company football is creating a great deal of interest now. At the time of writing this article only three companies remain in the race.

The baseball schedule is one of the best that has ever been compiled for a Tiger team. It includes ten choice games to be played at home. Then there are four long trips that will take most of the nearby colleges. Such a good schedule is an incentive for the candidates to work harder.

Ross O'Dell (who, if you don't recall, is the second best pole vaulter in the colleges of the United States) may be seen each afternoon trotting around the track, limbering up his muscles in preparation for a great season. Ross is slated to bring even more glory to Clemson and himself this year.

The Tigers go to Clinton next Friday to return the game played here tonight. The strength of the two teams will be determined this evening and this game will probably have an important bearing on the one Friday. After the game with P. C. Friday the Tigers journey over to Newberry to retaliate for the one-point defeat the Indians handed the Tigers earlier in the season.

Much interest is centered on the coming high school basketball tournament which is to be held here February 17-19. The high schools in the upper state district will gather here to decide the basketball championship for this section. Hoke Sloan is in charge of the tourney and will be assisted by Coaches Gillam and Richards and Professor Henry.

MACKEY'S MARVELS, GYM TEAM, TO GIVE PERFORMANCE HERE

The gymnastic team from Greenville will give a performance on Thursday night. This team has made many creditable showings in most of the towns of this section. Their program is a very entertaining one and consists of horizontal bar acting, spring board stunts, gymnastic dancing and many other interesting features. The team is under the leadership of Mr. George Mackey, physical director at the Greenville Y. M. C. A. He has consented to put on a show at Clemson at a very nominal price, only wishing to obtain enough money to defray expenses. The admission will be the measly sum of ten cents or only one "thin." A good show at a moderate price, obtained through the kindness of Mr. Mackey so fellows what do you say as to the whole corps turning out?

RAT BASKETBALLERS DEFEATED BY FURMAN FRESHMEN 44 TO 23

The Clemson Cubs lost a hard fought game of basketball to the Furman Freshmen last Monday week by the score of 44 to 23. The first half of the game was nip and tuck, but Furman took the lead in the last half and the Cubs were unable to recover. The majority of Furman's score in the last half was made on fouls. The Cubs seemed to lack their usual pep and teamwork. This condition was probably due to a disunion brought on by examinations.

Bob McCarley played his usual good game at guard. He kept Furman from making many shots under the basket. Hewitt and Asbill shot well in the first half but couldn't find the basket in the last frame.

RATING OF MEMBERS OF RIFLE TEAM OFFICIALLY ANNOUNCED

The scores made by the members of the Rifle Team during the past week showed a decided improvement over previous scores.

In the prone position, Cadets S. L. Gillespie, T. M. Clyburn and H. S. Byrd tied for first place, each making a "possible." In the sitting position Cadets R. M. Marshall, S. L. Gillespie and W. F. Hughes tied for first place. In the kneeling position J. R. Thomas was in first place with L. C. Padgett in second place. In the standing position W. F. Hughes was first with R. M. Marshall second.

In the total score W. H. Hughes was high man with R. M. Marshall second and C. E. Ray third.

In the first stage of the Corps

Area competition, L. C. Padgett was in first place with T. M. Clyburn in second.

In the second stage J. R. Thomas was in first place with R. M. Marshall in second.

In the third stage W. F. Hughes was in first place with R. M. Marshall in second.

In the fourth stage H. S. Byrd was in first place with T. M. Clyburn in second.

VARSITY BASKETEERS UNSUCCESSFUL IN CONQUEST OF AUBURN

Plains Tigers Give Clemson Team Dual Setback With Heavy Losses

The Clemson quintette met the hardest opponent of the year when they played the Auburn Tigers at Auburn last week. The first game went 43 to 27 in Auburn's favor and the second went 45 to 23. The Bengals played rather erratically, playing hard on some occasions and letting up on others.

Auburn is a strong contender for the S. I. C. championship this year. They have won twelve conference games and lost two. They have won the last nine straight games.

McGlone and Brock were the best for the Tigers of the hills in the first fracas. It was one of the fastest games seen in the Auburn court this year. It was really a better game than the score indicates.

Davis Batson and Tom McGlone were the shining lights for the Tigers in the second contest.

Ellis and the James twins were the outstanding players on the Auburn five. Clemson experienced a great deal of difficulty in guarding the James boys. The resembled each other so much that it was difficult to distinguish them.

Line up for the first game.

| Clemson | Auburn |
|---------|------------|
| Newman | f Ellis |
| Brock | f Aiken |
| McGlone | e McDowell |
| O'Dell | g James, F |
| Eskeu | g James, E |

Clemson substitutions: Hendee, Batson and Hanna.

Lineup of the second game.

WEALTH OF MATERIAL IS AVAILABLE FOR A FIRST CLASS NINE

Numerous Veterans and Recruits Promise Successful BASEBALL

Clemson baseballers are eager to get started on the tough schedule that they have before them. The majority of last year's nine are to be with us once more and to bolster them we have some promising material from last year's first year aggregation. "Tink" Gillam will have charge of the varsity.

"Mose" Moore will more than likely get the call to patrol one of the open spaces. "Mose" is tall and rangy, a consistent fielder, and his bat packs a powerful wallop. "Shine" Milling will be out for one of the gardens. "Shine" is a good fielder and a fair hitter. Big Bud Eskeu is anxious to take charge of the initial sack again this year. This boy plays first as well as he plays football and none of us need any explanation of his ability in the pigskin game. Hudgins and Dunlap will conduct the services around the keystone. Both of these boys are the latest word in fielding and are dangerous batters. Competition will be tepid around the hot corner. This position has always been considerably weak on the Tiger nines, but this year there seems to be some material capable of handling the bag in A-1 style. Harmon, "Walt" Martin, Bryan, Jones and Hane are the old men who will take a fling for the moundmen. Atkinson and Green and some good sophomores will hook up for the receiver's position.

The above named prospects are all old men. Some of the above will have to step fast to hold their berths this year as there are men from last year's rats that are going to liven things up quite a bit.

It is not certain as yet whether or not captain "Waxie" Martin's ankle will permit him to take his regular turn on the mound. If his ankle heals, as we all hope it will, he will be seen in action often. "Waxie" was one of the mainstays before he broke his leg in the Tech game last year.

Candidates are urged to come out and try for a position on the varsity. There is always room for good players and with an exceptionally tough schedule facing the Tiger there is special need of them.
